Name	Geocoded Addressing
Description	Addressing is the specific identification of a fixed location (for example, a plot of land, building, part of a building, way of access or other construction) which is represented by a structured arrangement of place names. It may be further detailed with the inclusion of other valuable attributes including geocodes.
Datasets	Address Point

Purpose	Addressing data provides users with unique and clear identification of a plot of land that allows the user to find and access the property for a variety of purposes. Addressing is used for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• communication</li> <li>• address validation</li> <li>• public safety</li> <li>• delivery of products and services</li> <li>• socio-economic and demographic analysis.</li> </ul>
Status	The NSW Addressing database is the authoritative property addressing system for NSW. This database was initially populated with address information sourced from the PSMA's Geocoded National Address File (GNAF) and continuously updated through automated batching processes of property and address information sourced from Property NSW (Valnet database), spatially structured components sourced from the Digital Cadastral Database (legal boundaries) and Digital Topographic Database (road names and extents), Councils, Geographical Names Board and Transport for NSW. The NSW Addressing database provides incremental address updates to PSMA to maintain GNAF's currency on behalf of NSW.
Standards	Metadata for the relevant Spatial Services datasets are required to comply with AS/NZS ISO 19115-2 ANZLIC Metadata Profile v1.1 and ISO 19139. The Address information is required to conform to the NSW Addressing User Manual.
